Bureau of Health Workforce
Health Resources and Services Administration
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
MISSION
BHW improves the health of the underserved and vulnerable populations by strengthening the health workforce and connecting skilled professionals to communities in need.
Bureau of Health Workforce

- Created in May 2014, BHW brings together HRSA’s key workforce programs previously housed in two bureaus: Health Professions and Clinician Recruitment and Service
- Meets the need for a well-trained, well-distributed 21st century workforce through realignment and built in connectivity
- Supports the health care workforce across the entire training continuum – from academic training of nurses, physicians, and other clinicians to clinicians currently providing health care in underserved and rural communities across the United States
- Annual appropriation of more than $1 billion that supports over 50 workforce programs and a staff of more than 450 people
BHW Workforce Priorities

- Increase health care workforce and align training and education with changing practice environment
- Interprofessional Practice & Education
- Integrate mental and oral health into primary care
- Focus on diversity and culturally competent care
- Support placement in underserved communities
- Increase availability and timeliness of workforce projections and analyses
Bureau’s Area of Support/Programs
